

This Song's For Your Wedding 9/79

There's songs they write for county fairs
 There's songs they write for lawnmowers
 There's songs they write for getting high
 There's songs they write for making you cry
 There's songs they write for marching and for chain gangs poundin' & sweating
 But here's an ~~inexpensive~~ gift
 For two who want to live a life of care and thrift
 And live a life of care and thrift
 Yes this song's for your wedding.

Cleaning the building, sweeping the halls
 For at the belfry 3, the dingy bell calls
 Last touches are made on the ~~front~~ ~~stage~~
 It's the day of your wedding we celebrate
 It's the day of your wedding we celebrate

Slightest tension sparks Page Street
 Respecting your spot, we bare our feet
 The reception we eagerly await

You design, we support
 All admire your first rapport
 Surrounded by kin and by friends for your date

There's songs they write for having fun
 There's songs they write for full of puns
 There's songs to rouse and songs to stun
 There's songs that get us all undone
 There's songs for workshops, states + clubs and songs that have no wedding.

But here's an inexpensive gift
 For two we want and glad to see and say we're glad you come to this
 Yes this song's for your wedding.
