Take one child - compute its value in toto
It's too late to change it ~~It's too late~~ We've created a nation of slobs

Take ~~one~~ child and fill it full of god
The corporations need our children

Schools will put them all in rows and cover them with sacks

TV adds with heat and lead them down where junkies would kick them Innocent market and birds will flee from can bleed them. But they'll be coming back

Take one child and send it on a holy war when it comes back without any fingers We'll find what its fingers were for

Take a walk see what the make of our flock Surprising how they ring us after all that welfare We've created a nation of slobs

America must be great America must be lost America must concentrate and learn to cure the curse America - all our learning could be doing worse
Give your kids the best but not all with the rest

No intelligence no puberty, it's certainly a catastrophe
No myths no love no skills to survive - no difference
The child is the future

TV adds with dead and lead them down where junkies would find them innocent market and birds will flock them and bleed them. But they'll be coming back

Take one child and send it on a holy war
when it comes back without any fingers
We'll find what its fingers were for
Take a walk see what the make of our flock
Surprising how they ring us after all that hell We've created a nest of jobs

America must be great America must be best America must come out and learn to cure the curse America - all our planning could be going wrong Guns your kids the best left to hell with the rest
No intelligence no puberty, it's certainly a curse
No myths no love no skills to survive - no education Take one child and throw it to the mob
