

Save the Universe Club

they want to stir up lots of trouble they want the kids all hugged they want to cool every fight and stop every delight they are the Save the Universe Club they'd like to cuddle every creature they'd like to guard every shrub they think that everyone could be happy and good they are the Save the Universe Club they got their meetings and they got their songs a dedicated membership that's small but strong they've got their vows and they've got their facts they've got their agenda and their fun raising talents they are organized like rangers they are seeking out all dangers they keep adding to their lists & they won't stop until they're done Look out universe, here they come they try to reform everybody / except themselves, uh-huh they'd like to kiss every pe, here they come there they go they are the Save the Universe Club they'd like to change human nature / they would improve on God they only want what is best, they'd even save us from death they are the Save the Universe Club

they scoff at old-fashioned Boethicattvas See themselves as the modern Odysseus they've got a sizeable task, wanna join 'em, just ask they are the Save the Universe Club Good luck To the Save the Universe Club
