

Where the Heart Is

You can tell by where the money goes

" " " " " " " " " "

(CHORUS)

You can tell where the heart is, where the heart is, where the heart is the bag lady on the block / listened to this fellow talk

She reached down & pulled out of her sock

A coin for his breakfast

the prince, however, claimed the dime

He needed it to get a shine

To show off his boots at the battle line

It's in your best interest

CHORUS

Sally skipped off to the store

To buy herself a pompadour

But she paused when she saw outside the door

Another kid crying

Now they both are sippin' shakes

Jelly's sure got what it takes

I'll take Sally any day

Any ~~time~~ time
