

Nature's Promise (there is a promise you cannot break...)

though the world unfolds Reveals it holds
No more

Still we will be filled with nature's promise

though we try to slow
the glacier's slow
Oh no

Yet try not regret bear nature's promise

though we come to blows
which could enclose all that we know

What we cannot touch is nature's promise

though I sit and hope
I could help, nope
Not her

then do I remember nature's promise
