

Screaming Mad 1

It was a beautiful day Thelma and I got up early we felt good and decided we'd go for a walk

But first we turned on the TV
Not that we're gonna watch it But just to have it on while we were getting dressed

She's doin her exercises then the news comes on Everythings so madderin so obvious Get so pissed

It makes me want to go ~~to~~ to one of those ^{stupid} therapy sessions where everyone's naked in a room full of pillows Smashing them against each other acting out their aggressions

It's tellin us terrible things people do to each other Countries do to people

It makes me want to be an Angry Son of a Saw them at the sound of MUSIC
Had to put cotton in my ears

Best goddamn fuck you music
I ever heard On what about the kid who just wanted his Pepsi Ma!

I hate everything the Media sez and I hate the way they say it and I hate their assumptions

It's like they were Seyer Jodgy we burned 1000 witches with straight faces

Then you get 2 screwed up ~~points~~ points of view on burning witches from 2 witch burners who just have different approaches to burning witches

Like those are the 2 sides and people take sides and the president sez anything and everybody sez yeh and it makes me screaming mad

But I guess it should be grateful Death Squads ain't roping us up to be tortured & killed by greed, hate delusion as national policy

~~So we just got the FBI to go for a while~~

It's a World full of people got their head up their ass and those who don't ~~are~~ end up screaming in the air

So we turned off the TV to go for a walk and were getting centered & calmed down and the paper boy comes by yelling the headline Then Thelma started screaming and throwing rocks at him and we ended up ~~at~~ in each others arms crying and watching the sunset.
