

Summer 72

9

~~All the Things you Promised~~

All the things you promised

I said you never knew

The lights went out ~~the~~

There was a shout of help we're falling through

The sun arose and through the pines Brought us light in strings in strain and all the things you promised turned out to be true

all through the night

I bet my hair was white

Couldn't find my hands cause they were there

All in the day I said it cannot be But I must admit that your chest fit in an unsuspected way

(first verse)